

Reclaiming Teacher and Priestess Training with Cassandra and Willow at Sternschnuppe Mystery School
April 2011 – May 2012

“We answer the call of Mystery to transform ourselves, seek balance and share our gifts.”

Do you hear the call to priestess; to wear the mantle of right-sized leadership? Do you know your gifts and challenges in doing this great work? Are you willing to cultivate the tools of shadow stalking while embracing your brilliance? We call to those students who desire to cultivate advanced Reclaiming priestessing skills and to create stronger containers for deeper magic. We call to those witches who know that magic is their path and who are willing to know themselves in all their parts. In this magical training, we will share old and new technologies used and developed in the Reclaiming Tradition. We will shed light on some of the mysteries of powerful magic, ritual and leadership as we deepen our own practice. We will delve into our motives, embrace our humanity and imperfection, and find strength in discovering the hidden. Will you answer the call of Mystery to transform, seek balance and share your gifts?

Teachers' Bios:

Willow “Firefly” Kelly is a priestess and witch who experiences transformation through the exploration and integration of shadows. She sprinkles her work generously with the ecstatic vibrations of music, energy, play, movement, theatre, devotion, and sound. She thrives on collaborative community building, art and ecstatic magic. She attended a year-long Reclaiming teacher training in Southern California in 1997 and she has been teaching workshops, Witchcamps and classes in the Reclaiming Tradition ever since. Deeply in love with the beauty and power of collaboratively creating safe and sacred space for collective and personal journeys to unfold, Willow is delighted to be returning to Germany where she fell in love with an amazing Reclaiming community and met some amazing Faeries! She is passionate about sharing her insights, knowledge and wisdom to teachers and leaders who strive for balanced power and right leadership. She is very much looking forward to weaving this magic for 13 months with other powerful witches.

Cassandra is a dreamer, seeker and net-weaving witch. As nature constantly transforms – our lives transform. Being aware of transformation is supportive and nourishing to each witches work and path. As one of her dreams always has been a place to gather, share, experience and honor our diversity, she founded Sternschnuppe Mystery School. Cassandra feels blessed to have the opportunity to help community build and to support witches stepping into leadership. She is passionate about the idea of balanced power and devotional magic. She is excited to share her knowledge and experiences to teachers and leaders willing to know themselves and paying effort to balance power within and without. Cassandra is looking forward to share as much as possible for 13 months of great magic with other powerful witches. She is teaching reclaiming classes and witchcamps for nearly 10 years now.
